

Target Market Determination – MDA Service – Conservative Balanced

Legal disclaimer

This Target Market Determination (TMD) is required under section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (the Act) using Financial Services Council and IMAP template version 1. It sets out the class of investors for whom the Managed Discretionary Account, including its key attributes, would likely be consistent with their likely objectives, financial situation and needs. In addition, the TMD outlines the triggers to review the target market and certain other information. It forms part of the Crystal Wealth Partners Limited design and distribution arrangements for its MDA service.

This document is not a product disclosure statement and is not a summary of the product features or terms of the Managed Discretionary Account. This document does not take into account any person's individual objectives, financial situation or needs. Persons interested in acquiring this product should carefully read the MDA Agreement, Investment Program and Statement of Advice for the MDA service before making a decision whether to invest through this Managed Discretionary Account.

Important terms used in this TMD are defined in the TMD Definitions which supplement this document. Capitalised terms have the meaning given to them in the MDA Agreement, unless otherwise defined. The MDA Agreement will be provided at the time a Statement of Advice is provided

Target Market Summary

This Managed Discretionary Account (MDA) is likely to be appropriate for an investor seeking a return equivalent to the long term CPI + 2.5% to 3.5%, a portfolio where the investor has a longer term investment timeframe – at least 5 years, a medium risk/return profile and needs some access to capital. The MDA Service is suited to investors who want their portfolios efficiently managed and who are happy to delegate investment decisions within agreed parameters. Under this MDA service, investors provide us with discretion to undertake investment transactions on their behalf without prior reference to them. The transactions that can be made must be within the parameters outlined in their investment program.

Description of Target Market

This part is required under section 994B(5)(b) of the Act.

TMD indicator key

The Investor Attributes for which the product is likely to be appropriate have been assessed using a red/amber/green rating methodology with appropriate colour coding:

In target market	Potentially in target market	Not considered in target market

Instructions

In the tables below, Column 1, Investor Attributes, indicates a description of the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of investors that are considering this product. Column 2, TMD indicator, indicates whether a customer meeting the attribute in column 1 is likely to be in the target market for this product.

Generally, an investor is unlikely to be in the target market for the product if:

- one or more of their Investor Attributes correspond to a red rating, or
- three or more of their Investor Attributes correspond to an amber rating.

Definitions of terms are in the attachment.

Definitions

Term	Definition
Investor 's investment objective
Capital Growth	The investor seeks to invest in a product designed to generate capital return. The investor prefers exposure to growth assets (such as shares or property) or otherwise seeks an investment return above the current inflation rate.
Capital Preservation	The investor seeks to invest in a product to reduce volatility and minimise loss in a market down-turn. The investor prefers exposure to defensive assets (such as cash or fixed income securities) that are generally lower in risk and less volatile than growth investments.
Capital Guaranteed	The investor seeks a guarantee or protection against capital loss whilst still seeking the potential for capital growth (typically gained through a derivative arrangement). The investor would likely understand the complexities, conditions and risks that are associated with such products.
Income Distribution	The investor seeks to invest in a product designed to provide regular and/or tax-effective income. The investor prefers exposure to income-generating assets (typically, high dividend-yielding equities, fixed income securities and money market instruments).
Investor 's intended product use (% of Investable Assets)
Solution/Standalone (75-100%)	The investor intends to hold the investment as either a part or the majority (up to 100%) of their total investable assets (see definition below). The investor typically prefers exposure to a product with at least high portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Core Component (25-75%)	The investor intends to hold the investment as a major component, up to 75%, of their total investable assets (see definition below). The investor typically prefers exposure to a product with at least Medium portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Satellite (<25%)	The investor intends to hold the investment as a smaller part of their total portfolio, as an indication it would be suitable for up to 25% of the total investable assets (see definition below). The investor is likely to be comfortable with exposure to a product with Low portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Investable Assets	Those assets that the investor has available for investment, excluding the family home.
Portfolio diversification (for completing the key product attribute section of investor 's intended product use)
Low	Single asset class, single country, low or moderate holdings of securities - e.g. high conviction Australian equities.
Medium	1-2 asset classes, single country, broad exposure within asset class, e.g. Australian equities "All Ords".

Term	Definition
High	Highly diversified across either asset classes, countries or investment managers, e.g. Australian multi-manager balanced fund or global multi-asset product (or global equities).
Investor 's intended investment timeframe
Short (≤ 2 years)	The investor has a short investment timeframe and may wish to redeem within two years.
Medium (> 2 years)	The investor has a medium investment timeframe and is unlikely to redeem within two years.
Long (> 8 years)	The investor has a long investment timeframe and is unlikely to redeem within five years.
Investor 's Risk (ability to bear loss) and Return profile
An investor 's desired product return profile would generally take into account the impact of fees, costs and taxes.
Low	The investor is conservative or low risk in nature, seeks to minimise potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear up to up to 4 years of negative return over a 20 year period and is comfortable with a low target return profile). Investor typically prefers defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
Medium	The investor is moderate or medium risk in nature, seeking to minimise potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear on average 4-5 years of negative returns over a 20 year period and comfortable with a moderate target return profile). Investor typically prefers a balance of growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets and defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
High	The investor is higher risk in nature and can accept higher potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear on average 5-6 years of negative returns over a 20 year period in order to target a higher target return profile). Investor typically prefers predominantly growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets with only a smaller or moderate holding in defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
Very high	The investor has a more aggressive or very high risk appetite, seeks to maximise returns and can accept higher potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear 7 or more years of negative returns over a 20 year period and possibly other risk factors, such as leverage). Investor typically prefers growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets.
Investor 's need to withdraw money
Daily/Weekly/Monthly/Quarterly/ Annually or longer	The investor seeks to invest in a product which permits full or substantial redemption requests at this frequency under ordinary circumstances and the issuer is typically able to meet that request within a reasonable period.

Term	Definition
Investor 's Other requirements
Individual tax management of investments	The customer is seeking a product that provides the ability to actively manage the investor 's tax position in the recommendations which are made to them
Visibility / transparency of portfolio holdings	The investor is seeking a product that provides a clear understanding of the constituents in their portfolio.
Ability to customise portfolio or accommodate other holdings	The investor requires the ability to specifically include, exclude or manage specific investments or classes of investment for particular reasons, such as ESG considerations, or because they have existing holdings which need to be accommodated in portfolio design.
Ability to include in specie transfer of existing investments	The investor has existing holdings which they expect to be incorporated into their portfolio and where ownership is to carry on, subject to subsequent portfolio management considerations. This may be for tax, transaction cost or other reasons.
Ability to limit the exposure to assets that negatively impact society and the environment.	The investor can specify the types of assets that do not align with their values to be excluded from their portfolio.
Distributor Reporting
Significant dealings	The issuer will rely on notifications of significant dealings to monitor and review the product, this TMD, and its distribution strategy, and to meet its own obligation to report significant dealings to ASIC. This TMD relates to portfolios of a certain risk profile, within the overall Managed Discretionary Account service. Dealings outside this TMD may be significant because: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • they represent a material proportion of the overall distribution in relation to the overall Managed Discretionary Account, or • they constitute an individual transaction which has resulted in, or will or is likely to result in, significant detriment to the investor (or class of investor). In each case, the distributor should have regard to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the nature and risk profile of the product (which may be indicated by the product's risk rating or withdrawal timeframes), • the actual or potential harm to an investor (which may be indicated by the value of the investor 's investment, their intended product use or their ability to bear loss), and
